DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claim 1-22, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising hydrogen peroxide, a moisturizing agent and one or more dermatological agents, classified in class 424, subclass 616.
 - II. Claims 23-31, drawn to a method of treating, preventing or managing a dermatological condition using the composition of Group I, classified in class 514, subclass 858-864.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the search required for each group is not same, wherein a reference which anticipates the invention of Group I would not render the invention of Group II obvious, absent ancillary art, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Even if there were unity of classification, the search of entire groups and/or genus in the non-patent literature(especially, non-patent literature) and database search (a significant part of a thorough examination) would be burdensome, it is undue burden for examiner for the accurate and proper examination, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election of Species

Upon the election of the patentably distinct invention of the group, applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. If the invention of the group I is elected, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: (a) antibacterial, antifungal, antiviral an anthelmintic for the antimicrobial agent recited in the claims 6-11 ; and (b) steroidal and non-steroidal agent for the anti-inflammatory agent as recited in claims 12-14.

Currently, claims 1 and 23 are generic.

Applicant is required to elect a single disclosed species from under the instant claims of the elected group. Moreover, whatever specific compound is ultimately elected, applicants are required to list all claims readable thereon. With the election of a specific exemplified compound, a generic concept will be identified by the examiner as the inventive group for examination.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

3. All the pending claims are subject to the restriction requirement.

No claim is allowed.
